Good Behaviour of My Friend

My friend's name is Kevin. He is ten years old. He is quite short; he is around one hundred and twenty five cm. He is slim and has eyes, as big as my hands. He has small ears and a sharp nose. He has beautiful straight hair too.

He has a very nice personality. For example, he always helps her mother with the housework every night. He is polite and caring. For example, he takes care of one another. He is kind too.

In class, he listens to the teacher, does classwork carefully and speaks politely. At recess, he never quarrels with others or fights with one another. He is nice to everyone too. He carries books for teachers and cleans the blackboard. He also helps me with my homework.

At home, he sweeps the floor, makes the bed and does the washing. He also folds the clothes. I love my friend because he is very helpful, polite and humorous.
